A VESSEL WRECKED

Two Hundred and Forty Seven Men Drowned

ONLY THREE PEOPLE ESCAPED

Her Majesty's Ship Serpent Goes to Pieces on the Rocks During a Severe Storm on the Spanish Coast Twenty Miles North of Cape Finisterra.

LONDON, Nov 13 – Her majesty's ship Serpent was wrecked Monday night twenty miles north of Cape Finisterre. Two hundred and forty-seven men were drowned. Only three escaped. The Serpent went on the rocks during a severe storm on the Spanish coast. A heavy mist prevailed at the time. It was impossible to obtain assistance from the shore, and the vessel remained in her helpless position until broken to pieces by the tremendous seas which swept over her. The crew were washed overboard in groups by the remorseless waves, and drowned or dashed to death amid the rocks.

The news of the disaster was conveyed to Corrunna, a distance of sixty miles, over mountain roads, and when a relief corps was organized and sent to the scene of the wreck it was too late to be of any avail. The Serpent's crew proper consisted of 170 men. The remaining victims were relief crews which were being conveyed to other British men-of-war on the African station.

The Serpent was a cruiser of the third class. She was built at Davenport in 1888, at a cost of $605,000.

The admiralty officials maintain silence, and decline to be interviewed on the subject of the disaster. They possess no organization through which news of such occurrences would be transmitted to them in advance of press reports, if the officers of the ill-fated vessel did not survive. Though the reports of almost total annihilation of the Serpent's complement were at first regarded as too terrible for belief, the impression has now become general that the story is true. The news spread throughout England like wildfire, causing lamentation in hundreds of homes.

News of the Disaster Confirmed.

MADRID, Nov. 13.—An official telegram from Corunna states that her majesty's ship Serpent was wrecked off Cape Buey, near the village of Camarinas. Of the 276 men on board only three were saved. The bodies of only three of the victims have yet been washed ashore.

Three sailors who succeeded in swimming ashore from the wrecked British cruiser Serpent have arrived at Camarinas. They express the belief that all the others on board were drowned.

A Nice Man is Lord Hamilton.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Lord George Hamilton, first lord of the admiralty, on rising to speak at a Conservative banquet, at Acton yesterday evening, said he was sorry to announce that just before he came there he received a telegram that her majesty's ship Serpent was lost on the coast of Spain, and he feared there had been great loss of life. The Serpent, he said, was one of our best cruisers and was a valuable vessel, with excellent officers and crew. He could not tell the cause of the disaster.

The announcement caused a sensation, and it was evident that many of those present would have thought it proper to postpone the banquet; but no action being taken to that end, the entertainment proceeded, and after the guests had eaten and drank heartily Lord George Hamilton led off in the toasts with an unusually jolly speech, his rollicking humor provoking peal upon peal of a laughter.

The news of this affair soon reached the London clubs and excited much adverse comment. It is considered certain that Lord Hamilton's conduct will cause as much scandal against himself and the Tories as was aroused against Mr. Gladstone and his political adherents by the alleged presence of the Liberal premier at a theater on the evening of the day when Gordon's death was announced in the London papers.

When the news of the disaster to her majesty's ship Serpent reached Plymouth, the Duke of Edinburgh, who is one of the admirals of the navy, was attending a Patti concert. On being informed of what had occurred, he hastily left the hall and went to the newspaper offices where despatches in regard to the sad event were being received. He was deeply moved, and expressed his heartfelt sorrow for the victims and their unfortunate families. He did not return to hear the remainder of the concert, but proceeded directly to his residence. The morning papers contrasted his conduct in contrast to that of his superior officer, Lord George Hamilton.

The newspaper offices at Plymouth were besieged during the evening by crowds of relatives of the Serpent's crew. The lamentations of the women and children were pitiful. It is said that many of the Serpent's men has expressed fear of disaster before leaving Plymouth, but the cause of their apprehension cannot be learned.

The admiralty has wired the British consul, at Corunna, to send full details of the wreck and loss of life at once. The queen has sent a message to the Duke of Edinburgh asking for particulars, and expressing her sorrow for the lost men and their relatives.

FOREIGN NEWS.

A Few Items Picked Up Over the Atlantic.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—A story of robbery and murder comes from the town of Args, not far from Roubaux, in the department of Nord. Tuesday night burglars broke into the house of the parish cure there and proceeded to plunder the place. The house keeper, a woman of 65, was aroused by the noise made by the intruders and endeavored to raise an alarm, but her cries were quickly suppresed by the burglars, who struck her repeatedly with some blunt instrument and left her dead upon the floor.

The cure, who had been awakened by the women's cries, hurried to her assistance, but was met by the miscreants and savagely assaulted. Yesterday morning the unfortunate cure was found in a dying condition, with his skull fractured. After securing everything of value that they could carry with them, the burglars made their escape, and at last accounts had not been captured.

Admits His Responsibility.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The signal man whose carelessness caused the terrible accident on the Great Western railway, near Launton early yesterday morning, admits his full culpability and will make no attempt to evade the penalty of his fatal neglect. This is the first serious accident on the Great Western since 1874. The line is splendidly managed, and yesterday morning's disaster was made possible only through the most incredible disregard of stringent rules by an employe. The special passenger train, which had the right of way, was running a mile a minute when it crashed into the misplaced goods train, and the shock was terrific.

Persecuted Jews.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—Two hundred Jews who were expelled from Russia have arrived in Berlin on their way to the United States. They declare that they consider themselves fortunate in getting away from a country where they were subjected to so much persecution. Many Jews who attempt to emigrate are prevented. The action of the police in this matter is inexplicable and seems wholly capricious. One family in a village will be notified to leave the country; a family of relatives or friends who prepare to accompany the exiles will be ordered to remain home, and cannot procure passports.

Newfoundland Fisheries.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The St. James Gazette states that negotiations are now in progress between the governments of Great Britain and France for a settlement of the Newfoundland fisheries question, on the basis of a surrender by France of her claim to any part of the Newfoundland shore. In return for this concession France is to be compensated by the cession to her of one of the British colonies in West Africa, possibly Gambia. A further condition to the settlement must be the renunciation by Newfoundland of the bait act.

Opposition to Senator Vance.

RALIEGH, N. C., Nov. 13.—It has been generally believed that the Farmers' Alliance would support Senator Vance for re-election to the senate, but The Progressive Farmer, an Alliance organ published here, and edited by L. L. Polk, president of the Alliance, has declared its opposition to the senator. In The Farmer this week, two editorials are printed, one attacking Vance on his alleged objection to the sub-treasury scheme, and influencing the members to vote against him. It is rumored that Alliance Democrats will vote with the Republicans and elect Polk.

THE STOCK MARKET.

A Much Better Feeling Existing on Wall Street.

THE EXCITEMENT DYING OUT.

No Trouble Feared on the Stock Exchange But a Number of Small Failures Are Looked for—The Secretary of the United States Treasury Comes to the Rescue.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The stock market opened excited but higher for the general list. Interest seems to be centered in the Villards and on tremendous sales the Northern Pacifics and North American have advanced about two points over Tuesday night's closing figures.

Long before 10 o'clock, the regular opening hour, the galleries and floor were crowded with eager excited throngs, the people in the former attracted by the news of the excitement and apparently desirous to see the wreck-strewn floor. The men on the floor were brokers and anxious to begin business.

Although trading is strictly prohibited on the floor before and after the regular hours, scores of brokers were seen making entries in the notebooks after brief confabs with each other, the only difference between their actions then and after the opening hour being the absence of shouting and the usual gymnastic feats which accompany the transactions on the floor in business hours.

After 11 o'clock there was a steadier tone, and as the morning wore off there was a steady hardening of values. At 12 the advance ranged from ½ to 12 per cent., the latter in Pullman Palace. Northern Pacific, the trusts and North American were the next strongest.

About 12:30 o'clock the failure of J. C Walcott & Company was announced. This caused some reaction.

The transactions during the morning were very heavy. Up to 1 o'clock 446,670 shares had changed hands.

Just before the close of the market money loaned at 3 and 4 per cent. and the worst is believed to be over

The Bank of North America was a heavy creditor at the clearing house yesterday. The bank will pay over to Nelson Cromwell, assignee of Decker, Howell & Company, large sums as differences on sales of securities held by the bank as collateral for loans made to that firm and sold in the market yesterday.

The failure of Walcott created little surprise, the house though a good one, had but a small interest in the market. The sales under the rule for account were mainly in odd lots and aggegated less than 2,000 shares, distributed among all the active specialties.

Mr. J. C. Walcott, the board member, was admitted in 1869, and the house was generally considered solid. It is not believed the failure will have any effect on the market.

Mr. Walcott was alone in business, although he continued the firm name since the retirement of Mr. Frank Dickinsen some time ago. Mr. Walcott refuses to make a statement.

Benjamin True, a stock broker, has also failed. True is a small trader and the failure is of no importance.

Charles M. Whitney, Frank M Larchar and Edwin S. Larchar, the three members of the brokerage firm of C. M. Whitney & Company, at 96 Broadway, which assigned yesterday, filed separate assignments to George H. Quintard, who is also the assignee of their firm.

Notwithstanding the announcement made early in the day that the North River bank had tided over their losses and made satisfactory arrangements with the clearing house, that institution closed its doors at 2:15 p. m., and posted a notice saying: "This bank has suspended temporarily."

Relief Comes from Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The secretary of the treasury has authorized the assistant treasurer at San Francisco to receive deposits of funds from bankers desiring to tranfer the same by telegraph to the assistant treasurer at New York. This is done to enable persons in New York having funds in San Francisco that are needed there to transfer them for immediate use in New York. The department will also accord this privilege to other points at which there are sub-treasuries, should it act as a means of affording any relief at the present time.

The principal question concerns a schedule of wages.

Senatorial Fight Begun.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 13.—The first Wyoming legislature met at Cheyenne yesterday and organized by electing A. P. Kellogg speaker of the house, and William Schnitger president of the senate. This is occasioned by the intention of ex-Governor William Warren to be a candidate.

THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

What the Organ of the Party Has to Say of Its Future.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13.—In its issue of the week The Farmers' Advocate, the official organ of the Farmers' Alliance or People's party of Kansas, has the following to say of the future of the party:

We shall at once commence to marshal the hosts of the people for the conflict of 1892. In this great work there are many prejudices to overcome. Sectional lines must be abolished. Interests which are identical must be brought together and the combined forces of the agricultural and laboring classes must be consolidated against the forces of the corporations, monopolies, trusts, syndicates and moneyed aristocrats who have for years feasted upon the substance of the people. When we say these forces are to be marshaled against the oppressors of the people we do not mean that the injustice which has characterized the corporate power of America is to be returned in kind.

The people simply ask for justice—that alone, and that, by the eternal, they will have. The coming contest, therefore, will not take place between the northern and southern sections of our country. The interests of the people of the west and south are identical and their political forces must be consolidated against the power of corporate greed. We may as well recognize this fact now as to permit our prejudices to postpone the day of its recognition.

The professional politicians of both parties both north and south, who have devoted their lives so assiduously to the promotion of corporate interests, recognize that this union of the two sections is the great danger that threatens the power of monopoly and they therefore constantly aim to keep alive the prejudices that have estranged them only to prey upon them and to maintain political supremacy by their alienation. It has been and is the holy mission of the Farmers' Alliance to subdue this sectional prejudice.

It is full time for this nation to become united. Did the hosts of the army in blue face shot and shell to maintain and perpetuate a more perfect union or to divide the nation into contending sections? If the former let us see to it that those of their comrades who survive may live to see a country redeemed and its liberties restored.

Down with all sectional lines. Away with all sectional prejudice. Let the fires of patriotism that still burn in the hearts of the people consume the prejudices of the past. Let one flag float over us and one spirit so perfectly pervade our hearts that we shall be able and willing to stand shoulder to shoulder in the great army that must make lasting conquest of the hosts of corporate greed that are falling upon the stolen substance of the people.

REVOLUTION IN HONDURAS.

An Interview With the Late Secretary of the Legation in Central America.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Col. James R. Hosmer, late secretary of legation in Central America, and consul general at Guatemala, is in Washington. He left Guatemala on Oct. 15. In regard to the revolution in Honduras, Col. Hosmer said: "In all five of the republics there is a spirit that broods mischief. The feeling is strained now, and if the tension keeps up much longer a general explosion may follow. My individual opinion is that this state of disquietude is encouraged from abroad. I don't mean from this country, which now, as ever, through its state department, has labored to harmonize these people. The aim of this government has been to keep down all difficulties and to conserve our own interests by getting the Central American states to keep the peace.

"My opinion is that about the best and quickest way to end the internecine strike of that region is to build the intercolonial railway advocated by the Pan-American congress that met in this city. It will bring the people together and modernize them. Such an enterprise would be the greatest boon the Central Americans could acquire, and would doubtless give a stability to their institutions that, under the present conditions, seems hopeless.

The War in Honduras.

LA LIBERTAD, Nov. 13.—During Monday night Bogran and his forces, who were surrounded in one of the wards of Tegucigalpa, withdrew from the capital. Loginos Sanchez, who is now in complete possession of the capital, and appears to be master of the situation. Sanchez will at once declare a de facto government and send representatives to Salvador, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, and possibly to Mexico and the United States.

WITH BALLOONS AND THINGS.

How Dr. Nansen Will Equip for His Pursuit of the Pole.

NEW YORK, Nov 13.—Dr. Nansen, who crossed Greenland a couple of years ago, has been writing further details of his plans for reaching the North Pole, which he will start to carry out in the spring of 1892.

He says he expects to be able to pass through Behring strait in June. He anticipates little difficulty in getting his small vessel as far west as the new Siberian islands. He believes that August or the beginning of September will be the most favorable time for pushing north.

He intends to use a small captive balloon in which he can ascend a few hundred feet for the purpose of studying the condition of things for a large distance around him. He hopes to get into loose ice and make the journey rapidly, at least as far north as Bennett island. When he reaches the permanent ice cap he will simply look for the best place to enter it, and will then wait for the ice to carry him whither it will.

He thinks the chances are good that he will be carried across the pole or very near it, and into the sea between Spitzbergen and Greenland. If it is summer when he arrives there he thinks he will probably get into open water near latitude 80 degrees north. If it is winter, however, he is likely to drift south along the east coast of Greenland and come out somewhere the following summer.

If the ice floes crush his ship Dr. Nansen thinks there is still an excellent chance that he will get through all right. His party, in that event, will live on an ice floe instead of in the cabin on ship board. They will have warm tents made of a double thickness of canvas or similar stuff, well filled with reindeer hair.

Such tents will be very warm and also very light. It is well known that several ship parties, including the Hansa crew and a part of the crew from the American exploring vessel Polaris, drifted hundreds of miles on the ice and finally reached a place of safety. Dr. Nansen's book on his trip across Greenland is soon to appear. It will be in two volumes and will have a large number of illustrations.

During the trip Dr. Nansen took over 200 photographs and for the first time the world will have an opportunity of seeing just what the ice-clad interior of Greenland looks like. He speaks English fairly well, but would not trust himself to write his book in English, and it has therefore been translated from the Norwegian tongue.

Six Story Building Damaged by Fire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Fire yesterday afternoon in the six story building, Nos. 252, 254 and 256 Pearl street, damaged stock and buildings to the extent of $50,000 distributed among various firms. The United States hotel, at Fulton and Pearl streets, was in great danger at one time, but escaped with a slight scorching. Traffic on the elevated road was blocked for an hour.

Duponts Have Another Fire Loss.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov 13.—A large barn belonging to the powder firm of the Duponts, near this city, was destroyed by fire, together with a large quantity of grain and hay, last night. Loss $14,000. This is the fourth barn the firm has lost by fire within a year. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

Sea Captain Washed Overboard.

FEATHER POINT, Que., Nov 13.—The Royal mail steamship Vancouver arrived inward from Liverpool yesterday and reported that Capt. Lindall, her commander, was washed overboard and drowned on Friday morning last during a heavy storm which swept the decks clear. Fearfully rough weather was experienced.

If Your House is on Fire

You put water on the burning timbers, not on the smoke. And if you have catarrh you should attack the disease in the blood, not in your nose. Remove the impure cause, and the local effect subsides. To do this, take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, which radically and permanently cures catarrh. It also strengthens the nerves. Be sure and get only Hood's Sarsaparilla.

ALAS!

How wretched is the man who has fallen a victim to Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, or diseased Liver, with all the horrible attendants. Look upon the picture. Poor man, being tired of dragging out a miserable existence, he is the picture of despondency; altogether, he is rather a forlorn specimen. Do we pity him? Of course; but at the same time feel assured that in a measure he is to blame for the bad state into which he has fallen. A sure, safe, speedy and easy cure can be found in Simmons Liver Regulator—Nature's own remedy. No mercury or deleterious drugs, not unpleasant to the taste, and always reliable—just such a remedy as you can pin your faith to without a shadow of disappointment. Read the testimonial, don't take our word for it:

"I have been subject to severe spells of Congestion of the Liver, and have been in the habit of taking from 15 to 20 grains of calomel, which generally laid me up for three or four days. Lately I have been taking Simmons Liver Regulator which gave me relief, without any interruption to business." J. HUGG, Middleport, Ohio.

MARION ought to be cutting quite a figure at the Old Roman banquet. The splendid Thurman though everywhere popular has no more ardent admirers than are to be found in Marion.

THE Adams Express Co. has a[illegible] the postal authorities' attitude on the lottery matter and the Louisiana fake has another hard bump. The lottery to have lived should have had the prizes to get out more generally.

THE investigations into the ticket department of the C. H. V. and [illegible] are not revealing the sensations that were at first promised. The implication of high ex officials does not seem probable. There are confessions to a few forged tickets, so far.

THE Farmers' Alliance in Kansas succeeded in electing a judge who now has to be sent to Ann Arbor law school to prepare for his duties. Of course sixty days' study will put him in fine trim. We fear, however, that the Alliance has the capacity to blunder frequently and strangely. The blundering is not exclusive to that party, though.

AMONG the notables at the Thurman banquet was Ex President Cleveland. The presence of Mr Cleveland in Columbus calls to mind his refusal to stop there when Mr Foraker was governor. But things are changed now and both these hating statesmen are out of office. They are still prominent, however. Mr Cleveland may again be his party's leader, and Foraker will yet be heard from.

THE silent Mr Quay is to soon talk so the word comes, and we are to hear some lively facts. The boss will resign from the national republican committee first and then the fur will fly in defense of his reputation, which has been pretty thoroughly assailed. King Bob Kennedy will come in for a slap. This is right. The republicans should have their fights among themselves all over before 1892. It makes much difference if there is some political killing done in settling matters.

LITERARY LIGHTS

Tennyson wants Owen Meredith to be his successor.

William Black, the English novelist likes Americans very much, and has hosts of friends among them.

Dr Holmes appears in the Harvard catalogue as "Oliver Wendell Holmes M D LL D, Litt D, D C L, Professor of Anatomy, Emeritus."

Alexander Dumas has been amusing himself by sending a play of his anonymously to the Parisian managers and having it returned by them all.

Rudyard Kipling wears a scarlet fez and eyeglasses in his sanctum. He smokes a pipe, and his room contains a rifle, a whisky decanter and a siphon of soda water.

R D Blackmore is better known among his neighbors at Teddington on the Thames, as the fruitman than as the novelist, and he is a successful market gardener.

The house of Warwick Crescent Paddington where Robert Browning had his London home, has just been distinguished by one of those memorial tablets that the Society of Arts set up.

Professor John H Hewitt who died in Baltimore, is best known, perhaps, as the author of "Rock Me to Sleep Mother" though he wrote a great many other songs and more ambitious works.

Getting [illegible] within gunshot I fired [illegible] the rest of the flock flew away. The [illegible] lay [illegible] while I reloaded [illegible] I walked [illegible] pick it up.

Judge of my surprise when two pigeons swept past me [illegible] it on either wing and it flew readily away in company with its preservers, settling on the roof of a barn a quarter of a mile distant. The explanation was probably this. The [illegible] bird's legs were [illegible] it could not rise without assistance. Its companions must have seen this [illegible] long [illegible] flew away and swept round again on their errand of mercy.

Why the Leaves Turn

Probably not one person in [illegible] knows why leaves change their color in the fall. The common idea is that the red and golden glory of the autumn is caused by frost but a little reflection will [illegible] since any [illegible] is wrong. Some [illegible] many trees [illegible] in September long before frost [illegible] we must look elsewhere for the cause.

The [illegible] has been explained thus. The green matter in the [illegible] of a leaf is composed of two colors red and blue. When the sap ceases to flow in the fall and the natural growth of the tree ceases oxidation of the tissues takes place. Under certain conditions the green of the leaf changes to red. Under different conditions it takes on a yellow or brown tint. This difference in color is due to the difference in combination of the original constituents of the green tissue and to the varying conditions of climate exposure and soil. A dry cold climate produces more brilliant foliage than one that is damp and warm.

There are several things about leaves that even science cannot explain. For instance why one of two trees growing side by side of the same age and having the same exposure should take on a brilliant red in the fall and the other should turn yellow or why one branch of a tree should be highly colored and the rest of the tree have only a yellow tint are questions that are as impossible to answer as why one member of a family should be perfectly healthy and another sickly. Maples and oaks have the brightest colors.

An interesting instance of the strange wanderings of derelicts [illegible] which the [illegible] of drifting [illegible] the [illegible] before [illegible] is furnished [illegible] The Times Democrat by the [illegible] chart for September. Then it started for a more southern latitude [illegible] during the month of May voyaged along past the southern side of the Bermudas.

For more than a year it was lost sight of but although it had been in and near the track of the great hurricanes it was seen in good shape on June 9 1888 600 miles northwest of the Bermudas. It remained in that neighborhood always drifting and sometimes retracing its tracks but never venturing more than 100 miles in any direction. It was seen by passing vessels several times during this period. At last it took another trip south and according to the latest [illegible] had again [illegible] below the [illegible] of the Bermudas [illegible] 500 or 600 miles to the eastward of the island. Lord Beaconsfield and the Primrose

The question having arisen whether the primrose were really Lord Beaconsfield's favorite flower Mr Arthur Vernon contributed the following to Notes and Queries.

Having had the honor to serve as land agent to the late earl for many years perhaps I may be allowed to say that no one on the Hughenden estate doubted his lordship's keen affection for primroses. The woodmen had orders to protect these plants; they were cultivated in large numbers along the walk behind the manor house known locally as the German forest, and by the earl's directions [illegible] personally during the last year of his life a clump of trees in the park where the grass grew scantily was [illegible] primroses [illegible] I can [illegible] they were his favorite flowers.

CONSUMPTION,

IN its first stages can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.

"Several years ago on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. —Auditor Clark was among those who went to Columbus this morning but Mr. Clark is there on business, and not to attend the banquet.

Tomorrow night the play will be produced at Prospect, while "Hilarity" is on at Music Hall, and will again be produced here Saturday night.

—Over 250 Chicago and Erie cars have been sent to Buffalo for repairs. The shops at Huntington, Ind., have been unable to do all the work needed.

—Billy Beard, the jovial Hocking Valley conductor, is running a train again on that road. Mr. Beard was at one time a passenger conductor on the Hocking.

—Walter Morrison is now able to set up, although still very weak. It will be gratifying to his many friends to learn that there is now no doubts but that Walter will rapidly recover.

—Sixty-two ticket were sold this morning to Columbus via the C. H. V. and T., many of our citizens going to attend the banquet given in honor of the 77th anniversary of the birth of Allen G. Thurman. Many others were attracted by the cheap rate given on that road.

—About three weeks ago, on the night of the day F. E. Coon had the sale of his father's personal property at his late home north of town, thieves entered the house and stole about $50 worth of silverware. It was thought at the time that the theft had been committed by some one who had got the run of the house on that day, and a clue has since been obtained, but no arrests made. The thieves took everything of value they could find.

A Morral Thief Caught.

A Morral thief! That sounds like a paradox, but it is true, and refers to the village of Morral, north of Marion. For several months J. P. Barnthouse, proprietor of the Morral warehouse, has been missing small amounts of oats and corn from the bins, so he laid traps to prove that he was right. To his surprise the other morning, while watching, he caught Lloyd Dennis, a person whom nobody would have suspicioned, about 5 o'clock in the morning.

Our information says the catch promises to be rich, as Dennis says he doesn't propose to pay for all the grain stolen, as there are two or three others who have been taking oats as well as himself.

Canby Lodge, No. 51.

All members of Canby Lodge, No. 51, Knights of Pythias, are requested to attend a special meeting at Castle Hall, this, Thursday, evening, Nov. 13th, to arrange for attending the funeral of Bro. Will Criswell, of Marion Lodge, No. 402. C. L. WELDEN, C. C.

VERY SAD DEATH

Will Criswell Dies in the Flush of Youth and Ambition, After Great Suffering.

William George Criswell died Wednesday evening at about 5:30 o'clock, at the home of his brother, Charley, on east Center street, after great suffering for the past two weeks.

Deceased was born in Morrow county, near Mt. Gilead, September 28th, 1866, making him at the time of his death, 24 years, 1 month and 14 days of age. He came to Marion three years ago last April, and was engaged in teaching school near here, and taught in all five terms. In the interim of his work as teacher he began the study of law in the office of W. Z. Davis. On the 28th of September last he went to Cincinnati and entered the law school, and although not being well at the time, he passed the examination and stood sixth in his class. At about that time began the first surrender of the hitherto robust constitution, he never having been sick. He was taken with inflammatory rheumatism and two weeks ago last Sunday was brought home in a helpless condition. A few days ago his disease developed peritonitis, which was the immediate cause of his death.

Will, as he was familiarly known to a large number of friends here, was an excellent young man, studious, ambitious and well liked by all his acquaintances. That he should be cut down at the threshold of what promised a useful career, is a particularly sad thought.

Will was the youngest of seven children. He leaves a father and mother, four brothers and two sisters, and his death is the first that has occurred in the family. He was a charter member of Marion Lodge, No. 402, Knights of Pythias, of this city, and his sad demise is also the first to occur in the ranks of this lodge. The funeral will occur under the escort of his fraternal brothers Friday at 1 o'clock. The services will be held at the Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. R. Wallace, and burial will take place at the Marion cemetery.

The Reign of Humor.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.]

Mirth and jollity reigned supreme at the Bijou last night. There is always something about a farce-comedy that takes, and big doses of humoristic elixir have been injected into Charles A. Loder's merry farce-comedy, Hilarity. Charles Loder, who is one of the funniest Dutch comedians on the stage to-day, enacts the leading comedy role. He is as amusing as a circus. His right bower, Eddie Edwards, who is one of the finest chaps that ever wore galways, and Miss Ruby Lytton sings like a nightingale. Miss May Gennell sings very sweetly and dances as gracefully as a fairy. The McIntyres are the best sketch artists that have appeared here, and they were tired when they got through encores last night. The quartettes and trios are among the best that have appeared in Pittsburg this season. In fact the show was good all through, clean and neat, and uproariously funny. Hilarity will remain the rest of the week. If you want enjoy a heavy laugh, take it in.

Charles Loder and his excellent company will appear at Music Hall, tomorrow evening.

Still Under Consideration.

Mention was made a few days since of the proposition to locate a church organ manufactory in this city, and although there has nothing more definite transpired since, we are pleased to note that the matter is still under consideration. Mr. Stevens, of Detroit, the gentleman who has interested local parties in the enterprise, was in the city today conferring with citizens. He is a mechanic as well as an excellent musician and is the builder of the pipe organ in the Lutheran church at Bellefontaine, which was opened a few weeks ago. The idea of a manufactory here is to construct pipe organs as a specialty and possibly manufacture a cheap grade piano.

The matter of such an establishment has been brought to the attention of members of the Board of Trade, and we understand several gentlemen are considerably interested. Mr. Stevens will return here Saturday for further conference.

Faust and Marguerite.

W. E. Fisk, business manager of the Roberts-Sailer Faust and Marguerite Co., was in the city today arranging with Manager Sargent for the appearance of that excellent production at Music Hall on Thursday, November 20. It is one of the strong engagements of the season. It is a powerful production and is presented by an excellent company, with wonderful mechanical and scenic effects and amazing calcium lights. The announcement is made that it is one of the most superb and finished representatives of Goethe's great work that can be given.

Mr. Roberts has the reputation of a great Mephistopheles, and the talented Miss Sailer gives a finished Marguerite. The support is numerous and able. All in all the promises are excellent for a splendid performance and Marion will certainly give a large house to the initial performance in this city.

Seriously Burned.

Warren Loveridge, a young lad 15 years of age who resides with is parents on north Main street, and an employe at J. F. Lust's confectionery manufactory, met with an accident this morning that will lay him off duty for some time. The boy was engaged in pouring off a batch of hot candy, when the mass of it was thrown over his left hand by slipping. His hand was dreadfully wounded by the hot liquid streaming between his fingers, the skin being scalded off. The boy was taken to the office of Dr. Sweney and had his injuries attended.

The Garnering Time.

Fair is the world now autumn's wearing,
And the sluggard sun lies long abed;
Sweet are the days now winter's nearing,
And all winds feign that the wind is dead.

Dumb is the hedge where the crabs hang yellow,
Bright as the blossoms of the spring;
Dumb is the close where the pears grow mellow,
And none but the dauntless redbreasts sing.

Fair was the spring, but amidst his greening
Gray were the days of the hidden sun;
Fair was the summer, but overweening,
So soon his o'ersweet days were done.

Come then, love, for peace is upon us,
Far off is fading, and far is fear;
Here where the rest in the end hath won us,
In the garnering tide of the happy year

Come from the gray old house by the water,
Where far from the lips of the hungry sea
Green groweth the grass o'er the field of the slaughter,
And all is a tale for thee and me.

A NEAT SWINDLE.

How a Traveling Shark Imposed Upon a Widow Woman and Got $84.40

Mrs Julia Wetzel, widow of the late Frederick Wetzel, who kept a saloon on south Main street until his death recently was swindled out of $84.40 in cold cash Wednesday noon.

The swindle was committed by a fellow who signed as Paul Ganer, and who has been about town for the past few days with the apparent intention of doing up somebody, and an inexperienced widow woman turned out to be the most likely victim. The said Paul Ganer represented himself as the agent of E. H. Horner, banker of 65 Wall street, New York, who does some kind of an insurance business, in which Fred Wetzel was at one time a policy holder. In some unknown way the shark was aware of this fact, and he represented to Mrs. Wetzel that if she would pay the dues that her husband had neglected she would receive the amount of his insurance, $1000. This was a large sum in the eyes of Mrs. Wetzel, and to her the thing looked plausible. The amount of the back dues was the before mentioned $84.40 and this was readily produced and went into the wallet of Paul Ganer, and all the woman now has to represent this sum is a receipt written in Dutch-English, and illegible.

Gottleib Merkle tends bar at Mrs. Wetzel's saloon, but this transaction was consummated while he was out. When he returned he was told of the thousand dollar hit. Merkle was up to snuff, however, as the fellow had tried the game on him, he at one time being in the same company. His suspicions were therefore aroused and he went to the Western Union office and sent a telegram to E. H. Horner, the Wall street banker, who soon replied that he had no representative by the name of Paul Ganer, and that the transaction was a swindle; but the swindler had skipped.

It is apparent that Paul Ganer so called is a very bad Dutchman who has assumed a very good scriptural name.

TREASON AND LOYALTY

Hundreds of Housewives Pay Tribute to a Sharper Selling Starch.

A very large number of Marion housewives recently gave ear to a traveling starch peddler who not only had a most excellent quality of starch and sold it reasonably, but gave with the purchase a fine table, worth three dollars the world over. The agent said all this, and while he said these things he talked other matters—a very sociable fellow, if he did show improprieties—and told how many hundred of men were at work making the tables for delivery. Indeed his company has purchased seven thousand acres of timber and the tables were to be given away with the starch if it took the whole earth. Of course the tables could not be delivered by the solicitor but would come a week later, and without suspicion the ladies bought freely.

Up to date there unless dray loads of tables have not appeared. The three dollar article that was to be a gift with a costly fifty cent purchase has not come to time. The ladies are [illegible] the table but the starch is reported [illegible]

That's a Great Official.

Ernst Zachman, the sealer of weights and measures who was "elected by 58 more votes than he needed," is a vigorous and nonchalant official. The other day he started out to perform his duty, as he interpreted it, and he began by testing the various scales about town. Ernst Zachman, sealer of weights and measures, 132 pounds avoirdupois, mounted nearly every pair of scales in the city, and found none of them wanting. But we should let him tell it. Says Zachman, cristened Ernst, the aforesaid sealer of weights and measures: "The first scales vot me on got weigh youst 132 pounds, the next vat I moundt veigh me 140 pounds, and den, by jimminy Christmases, de delephones flash de news all over town youst so like von stroke ov lightnings, 'Von hundred and dirty-two pounds'!" And so Ernst argues that the message was sent about town to all dealers to fix their weights, and they all registered thereafter "Zachman, 132 pounds."
